Saturday last arrived a Mail from Holland,

Ispahan in Persia, June 23.

HERE is a profound Tranquillity in this Part of the World, owing to the exact Observance of the good Orders establish'd by our Sophi Kouli Kan; and there's a free Trade and Plenty of Provisions throughout the whole Kingdom. Our last Advices from Candahar say, that the Sophi, after having reduced that Capital, had given the Government of the said City, as well as of the whole Province, to Mery Islam, who was heretofore the Leader of the Rebels in those Parts: That the Sophi had refus'd the Presents sent him by the Great Mogul, and was march'd with the greatest Part of his Army towards Caboul, a very large City on the Frontiers of Persia, and of the Dominions of the Great Mogul, which abounds with Provisions, owing to the great Fertility of the adjacent Country. To facilitate this Enterprize, the Sophi has detach'd the Prince his Son with a considerable Body towards Bokhara (a Place near the River Gihun, which falls into the Caspian Sea) in order to make a powerful Diversion on that Side.

Constantinople, July 17. The Grand Seignior seems resolv'd to stay till the Campaign is at an End, before he enters into a Negotiation with the Courts of Vienna and Petersburg. His Ministers have already declar'd to the Marquis de Villeneuve, Ambassador from the King of France, that he was in no Disposition to make a Peace with those Powers, but upon honourable Terms; and it seems that the Porte will not consent to any Accommodation, unless something be therein stipulated in favour of Prince Ragotski, whose Interests they seem to have very much at Heart. The Stiffness which the Grand Seignior displays upon this Occasion, is founded, no doubt, upon the repeated Assurances which the Prime Vizier has caus'd to be made to his Highness, that his Army was numerous and well provided with all Necessaries, and that the Emperor's was in so bad a Condition, that he did not doubt of obtaining great Advantages over it during this Campaign. The Seraskier who commands our Army near Bender, has also sent Word to his Highness, that the Russians were in a bad Condition, by reason of the painful Marches which they had been oblig'd to make; that he would detach some Troops to join the Tartars, in order to dispute the Russians Passage of the small Rivers, and to fatigue them by continual Skirmishes; and that he could stay with the Bulk of the Army near the Niefter to attack the Enemy, in case they undertook to pass it. The Grand Seignior depending upon the success of his Arms, has sent Orders to the Prime Vizier to give Battle to the Imperialists as soon as Opportunity offers, and to make himself Master of Belgrade, that he may have a free Passage up the Danube from Widdin to Belgrade.

Warsaw, Aug. 23. Letters from Lasycow of the Polish Army say, that the Russian Army, which was on the March towards the Niefter, was numerous and compos'd of fine Troops; that it was well supply'd with Provisions and Ammunition, which were carried off by 60,000 Carts; that the Army was continually harass'd in its March by the Tartars, so that they could not travel above one or two Leagues a Day; and that in the Night time while the Troops were encamp'd, they were oblig'd to make the Horses feed in the Middle of the Camp.

Petersburg, Aug. 8. O. S. The following is an Account we have received of a fresh Engagement between the Russian Army and the Turks and Tartars, near the River of Bielokisch.

On the 21st of July, the Russians had Advice brought to their Camp, that a considerable Body of Turks and Tartars, commanded by the Sultan of Biagorod, and four Turkish Bashiaws, was arriv'd on the River Molokisch, four Leagues from our Army, and that the Enemy seem'd resolv'd to come and attack us next Day. Upon this Intelligence the necessary Dispositions were made for a Battle, and the Army march'd all Night to get out of the De-

Next Day the Army was marching on, but oblig'd to halt, on Advice that the Enemy appear'd in the Rear.

The 22d, early in the Morning, the Cossacks of the Don being detach'd to observe the Enemy's Motions, met one of their Parties, which they attack'd, and put to Flight, after having kill'd 40 Men, and taken 8 Prisoners, who reported, that after the Turks had repass'd the Niefter, the Seraskier of Bender order'd the Sultan of Biagorod to pass it also with his Hordes, and that upon the said Sultan's Refusal to pass it, unless he were reinforced by some Turks, he sent him a Body of Troops under Command of Well Bashiaw, who is reckon'd one of the bravest Officers in the Ottoman Army, and the same that attack'd on the 30th of June, and the 8th of July last. These Prisoners added, that the Seraskier of Bender was on the other Side of the Niefter with an Army of 60,000 Janissaries, Spahis and Arnauts; that he also expected 9000 Men of Asiatick Troops, and that he had Orders to dispute the Russians Passage of that River, and to give them Battle if they came over.

About seven o'Clock the Army continued its March towards the Niefter, which was then but two Leagues and an Half from it. Their Situation then was between the River Molokisch on the Right, and that of Bielokisch on the Left. The Troops of the Van Guard of the Enemy's Army appearing a little after, the Marshal de Munich put himself at the Head of a Detachment of Horse Guards and Cuirassiers, to go and take a View of the Enemy, whom he found rang'd in Battle Array, behind a Mountain, half a League from the Army. Upon this he order'd the Quarter Master General de Berner, to form a Square with the Van Guard, consisting of 7 Russian Regiments, 1 of Hussars, 2000 Cossacks, some Calmucks, and 22 Pieces of Cannon, and to march towards the Hill, in order to see how the Enemy look'd. He also order'd the Lieutenant Charles de Biron, to follow the Van Guard with the 3d Division of the Army, and to send three Regiments of Foot before, and a Company of Grenadiers of the Regiments of Dragoons under Command of the Prince of Wolfenbuttle, who went and posted himself with the said Body over-against the Enemy's Left Wing; as did the General de Lowenwolde, with the Field Artillery. Not long after this the Enemy came and fell upon the Division under the Lieutenant General Count de Biron, and on the Left Wing of the Body under the Prince of Wolfenbuttle; but were soon repuls'd with great Loss; and as a great Confusion was remark'd amongst them immediately after, all the Troops march'd about 3 o'Clock towards the Enemy with their Colours flying, and oblig'd them to abandon the Field of Battle, and to retire with very great Precipitation, some towards the River of Molokisch, and others towards the Niefter, but the Approach of Night hinder'd them from being pursued very far. The Loss of the Enemy is not known, because, according to Custom, they carried their Dead with them. That of the Russians is very moderate.

Other Advices from the Russian Army say, that the Prince of Wolfenbuttle distinguish'd himself very much in the Action; as did also the Lord Crawford, who serves in the Army as a Volunteer; for this Nobleman, who was dress'd like a Hussar, pursued the Enemy a good Way Sword in Hand; that the Adjutant General Ulitz, had a Horse kill'd under him by the Side of the Marshal de Munich; and that before this Action the Army wanted Water for two Days, so that if the Turks had attack'd them at that Juncture, they might have done our Troops a great deal of Damage. These Advices add, that the Russian Army was on the Bank of the Niefter, over-against the Turks, who were encamp'd on the other Side of that River, so that the two Armies are in Sight of each other. 'Tis not doubted but ere long, we shall have the News of a bloody Battle, since the Count de Munich was to pass the Niefter on the 27th ult.

From the Imperial Camp near Semendria, Aug. 3. O. S. Yesterday the Army pass'd the Danube over two Bridges and came to this Camp, where we hear that 15,000 Turks advanced about a League from hence, but seeing the good Figure we made, they retired without undertaking any thing. The Army will march again To-morrow to approach the Morava, 'tis said, and go in quest of the Enemy. We hear that since the last Succours were thrown into Orsova, the Turks made two Attacks upon Fort St. Elizabeth, but were repuls'd each time with considerable Loss, and that they have since discontinued to batter the Place, so that we soon hope to hear that they have intirely rais'd the Siege.

Vienna, Aug. 16. O. S. The Great Duke of Tuscany is now intirely recovered, and preparing to set out shortly for the Army. The last Advices from Hungary say, that the Prince de Lobkowitz, who was incamp'd with his Troops near the Iron Gate on the Frontiers of Wallachia, was march'd farther into Transylvania, upon Advice, that the Grand Vizier had detach'd a considerable Body of his Troops towards Moldavia.

Madrid, Aug. 8. O. S. The Express which the Court sent about a Fortnight past to London, with Proposals to serve as the Basis of the Negotiation which is to be begun for amicably determining the Disputes betwixt this Crown and that of Great Britain, is expected back again about a Fortnight hence; and we hope that the Answer which he brings will be favourable, because we are assur'd that the Proposals in Question are of such a Nature, that the British Court cannot reject them, if they are ever so little inclin'd to preserve the Peace.

Fatal Consequences thereof to GREAT BRITAIN, CONSIDER'D.
By the AUTHOR of The History of the Succession to JULIERS and BERG

Without the Peace I have made towards a War, there is nothing so certain as that all Flanders would have been absolutely lost that Campaign. And I believe you would give much greater Sums than this will cost you, rather than the single Town of Ostend should be in the French Hands, and 40 of their Men of War in so good a Haven over against the River's Mouth

Lane.

said Succession, on the Demise of the last Sovereign of Juliers

Powers of Europe were necessarily engaged, either for Themselves or their Allies.

ANTI-SYPHILICON

The only short and most infallible
Cure in the Universe for the Venereal Disease, from the slightest Infection to the most extreme and degenerate Degree of it, even when the Blood and Juices are so roughly contaminated with its malignant Virus, and the Bones are affected with it.

Fresh Infections, call'd CLAPS, with all their attending Symptoms, tho' ever so severe, are entirely cur'd by it in a few Days, and so as effectually to prevent the Blood and Juices from being tainted with any remaining Virus on one Hand, or a venereal Gleet or Weakness to issue on the other.

And the most inveterate Degree of the French Disease attended with Nocturnal Pains, universal Breakings out and all the other most exasperated Symptoms, are all overcome by it, and effectually and much more safely red than by Salivation, Inunguation, or any other Method whatever, and in so easy and pleasant a Manner, without impairing Strength, or occasioning any Inconvenience, as to bespeak it the only apposite Remedy or true Venereal Antidote in the World; and thus some Thousands have their great Joy experience'd.

It is pleasant to take, occasions no Sickness or Discomfort, nor requires Confinement; but may be taken, and the Cure be accomplish'd, without the Knowledge of the most Experienced Friend.

Those who suspect they have received an Injury, and by only a Dose or two of it, be perfectly freed from all Apprehensions; for it suffers no lurking Venom to be in the Body, but wholly extirpates it Root and Branch, in a gentle, easy, and most effectual Manner.

All such likewise as doubt they have some remaining licks of former Injuries, may by a few Doses of it intirely themselves from all Suspicion of that Kind; for it admits no Foulness, Corruption, or Putrefaction whatever, as main in the Fluids, or to adhere to the Solids; and on Account, in all scabittick, scrophulous, and even Eruptions or Foulnesses of the Skin, Glandulous Swellings and Impurities of the Juices, it does more by one than any other Medicine yet known can by ten.

The Price of this most Noble ANTI-SYPHILICON is Six Shillings a Pot, which, considering its extraordinary efficacy, one Pot only being sufficient in most Cases to accomplish the Cure, is not a tenth Part of its Value; and is appointed by the Author to be had only at Mr. RAU-TOYTHOP, at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's Church-Yard in the Strand, ready sealed up with a Lock Instructions, by the Perusal of which, all Persons who ever affected with any Degree of the Venereal Disease, may perfectly understand their own Condition, and occasionally know when, and when not, the Venereal Poison is lurking rooted out of their Bodies

Note, Ask only for a Six Shilling Pot for the Security.
